The following Pilot Study Protocol has been developed by Kiko Technology Ltd. ("KTL") to:

1. Outline the agreed terms for installing the Kiko technology for the purpose of a pilot study.
2. Guide and assist the Client in implementing a successful pilot study.
3. Provide a means to collect and track useful data using the Pilot Data Tracking Sheet.
4. Establish a results-based benchmark for the client's unique operation, to be used in discussions regarding the intended service contract fees to be billed monthly.

TERMS OF PILOT STUDY

- a. KTL will provide Kiko cartridges to the Client at a price of US$ 15,000 per KCC tritan that is waived in totality if returned at end of pilot study OR used continually into an agreed SERVICE CONTRACT agreement between the Client and KIKO or its authorized reseller. The cost of each KIKO product is payable if not returned and not used to service any agreement.
- b. The Client shall follow the Pilot Study to the best of their ability and exercise diligence in recording and documenting the parameters of the study outlined in the Pilot Data Tracking Sheet.
- c. The Client shall provide all recorded parameters and data to KTL during and after the Pilot Study.
- d. The Client shall provide to KTL an analysis of the Blueberry results conducted, validating the yields per acre (fruit weight and total grow days).
- e. The Client will not tamper with or misuse the Kiko cartridges.
- f. The Kiko cartridges shall remain the property of Kiko Technology Limited at all times.
- g. The Client shall have the right to terminate the pilot study at any time without cause by giving notice in writing to KTL. Upon completion of the study, the Client shall enter into a SERVICE CONTRACT agreement with the authorized Kiko Distributor
- h. The Client is required to provide all KIKO vs. control study data throughout the study and allow unfettered access to facilities on agreed-upon schedule of visits by KIKO authorized representatives.
